Worldflight 2017 Passes Through Norfolk Island

During the week Norfolk welcomed Karl-Heinz Zahorsky and Karl Karbach, who on July 28 started their journey around the world on the Piper Malibu from Kiel-Holtenau airport in Germany. For the two pilots pictured above, who both own a private and a professional license, a long-held dream is fulfilled.

The aircraft is equipped with the accessories which are indispensable for a round-the-world trip. An additional fuel tank, a petrol tester, a new 4-blade propeller which will ensure particularly quiet and efficient propulsion. and a HF system for shortwaves so that communication can run smoothly in every country.

The extensive map material, which provides the necessary orientation in the event of a possible failure of the electronic navigation devices, makes it clear how many countries the journey will lead the two pilots to. On the journey are stages such as Croatia, Egypt, Sri Lanka, the Easter Island and the Cape Verde Islands.

In Sri Lanka, Hr. Zahorsky will visit Dr. Reijntje's School for the Deaf, which has been very dear to him since his first visit to Sri Lanka and which he would therefore like to support with his donation call.

Dr. Reijntje's School for the Deaf, a school for deaf children in Sri Lanka makes a valuable contribution and deserves full support. It ensures that deaf young women get an education that makes it possible for them to earn their livelihood.

On Thursday morning Karl-Heinz and Karl departed for Rarotonga.
